

An aperitif...

... is so much more than only a short drink before food.
It can ring in a grandiose evening glamorously and stylishly or prepare for the coming as a restrained forerunner.
How an aperitif is also chosen, it always describes an invaluable important fragment in a mosaic which outlines a special time:
the beginning.

Gin & Tonic

A recommendation from your bartender

Nikka Coffey Gin + Fever Tree Indian Tonic 20,50 €

Refreshing Yuzu, Kabosu, Amanatsu and Shikuwasa citrus fruits and delicate fruitiness of apples. Japanese Sansho pepper makes the aftertaste long and spicy.

Ferdinand + Fever Tree Indian Tonic 18,00 €

A harmonic gin that looks for its equal also across Germany's borders, paired with a premium tonic that appreciates the finesse of its gin and also the combination with VDP Schiefer Riesling (Forstmeister Geltz-Zilliken vineyard) sink

Caorunn [ka-ruun] + Thomas Henry Tonic 17,50 €

Rowberry, heather, Coul Blush Apples, dandelion & swamp Myrtle are among the special Scottish Highland Botanicals, which give this gin its interesting and above all pleasant aroma. In order not to destroy but to support this, we recommend a somewhat sweeter tonic, like the Thomas Henry tonic.

Martin Miller's + Fever Tree Premium Indian Tonic 18,00 €

The main emphasis of this gin are herbal notes like cassia, angelica, florentine iris and other oriental flowers, pine needles and spanish oranges. This gin combined with fever tree tonic will show a strong and rich taste.*

Elephant strength+ Fever Tree Indian Tonic 20,00 €

The double amount of ingredients and a special focus on Juniper, african Buchu, orangepeel and mountain pine provide an obviously more intense scent and taste, without disregarding the soft and balanced charakter of this London dry gin.
