„The Cigar“

Cigar smoking is the oldest form of tobacco consumption.

Already the Aztecs and the Maya, who gave the name "Ciquar" - "something flammable that tastes good and is good smells - emboss, know and appreciate the cigar.

"The cigar was invented by the gods in order to make themselves to give to special measure the tobacco benefit.

Every time there is lightning and thunder, the gods strike fire, to light a cigar."

The cigar is a special good in many cultures worldwide.

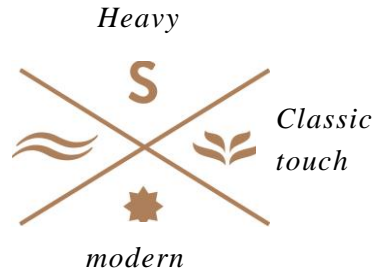

The peace pipe of the American Indians and the religious tobacco use of the African Bantu or Yoruba peoples bear witness to this. It is Columbus who in October 1492 on one of the Bahama Islands, today's San Salvador, the world of the tobacco consumption for Europe. The aborigines call it the burning leaf roll in her mouth "Tabago".

Linguistic confusion leads to the fact that the term

"Tabago" later the word "tobacco" emerges. <sup>1</sup>
